

Forum volunteer positions

Forums provide opportunities for members to attend formal presentations on common areas of interest from industry experts and members with specialized knowledge and experience. Those who attend are encouraged to interact with the speaker and to participate in audience discussions. Although the focus of forums may be a special interest area such as technology or construction, all members and prospective members are invited to attend. The forums are a great place to gain knowledge, meet and interact with members, and learn more about the project management profession and the Sacramento Valley Chapter.

We are looking for innovative and motivated chapter members to join us in co-leading these great offerings to chapter members. Currently, we have opportunities with the following forums:

- Career Development forum co-lead
- Agile forum co-lead

This is a great opening for anyone looking to give back and a way to earn up to 12 PDUs for the year.

If you are interested contact Michael Williams at michael_williams4@icloud.com and Chris Wolters at vppd@pmi-svc.org.